

WHAT IS POETRY?

Tumbleweed Tales Society has wrestled with this concept ever since we began our round table. Some of us have brought a definite method and definition to poetry; others of us have experimented, and still others of us are not sure. We all still have questions and are forever discussing the scholarship, committees, society, teachers, lawyers, publications, etc. Even so, we are haunted.

Here are some of our thoughts, research, discoveries, encounters, beliefs. Perhaps the muse that drives poetry will find beckon you too.

We welcome your thoughts. What is poetry to you?
